FATAL RACE RIOT IN ILLINOIS TOWN

Murder of Two Young Men Inspires War Against Foreigners in West Frankfort

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 5. — A mob of more than 3,000 is in control of West Frankfort, Ill., threatening to drive out the foreign population, following the discovery yesterday of the bodies of Amiel Calcaterra, 19, and Tony Hempel, 18, who had been murdered, according to a long distance telephone message received tonight from Carverville, Ill. Forty persons have been injured, four seriously, in riots, it was said.

At 10:30 o'clock tonight the mob began setting fire to the homes in Frankfort Heights, a section occupied by foreigners, according to reports reaching here. Other homes throughout the town also are being fired, it was stated.

The rioting started this afternoon, according to the message, when two more suspects were arrested in connection with the murder.

Mob Marches on Jail.

The mob, hastily organizing, stormed the jail, demanding the prisoners. When this was refused, they demanded that a committee chosen from their members be allowed to talk to the prisoners.

The authorities granted this demand and the prisoners, one of whom is a chauffeur, is said to have informed his questioners that he drove Calcaterra and Hempel to Royalton Monday.

The committee then withdrew from the jail and the two prisoners were hastily removed by the authorities.

The mob is reported to have divided and started for nearby towns, where it is believed the suspects may have been taken.

West Frankfort is in the Southern Illinois coal region, and has been cut off from telephonic communication for some time on account of labor trouble and only meager information was available.

Foreigners are reported to be leaving West Frankfort and Marion by every road, carrying what household goods they can, and in many instances driving cattle ahead of them.

Murder Theory Is Rife.

West Frankfort, Ill., Aug. 5. — Belief that Amiel Calcaterra, 19, and Tony Hempel, 18, were murdered by a gang of robbers, who have committed many depredations in southern Illinois recently, was expressed by Franklin county officials tonight.

Settino de Sennis, held in connection with the crime, barely escaped a mob of 200 that visited the county jail at Marion early today. Officials heard of the mob's approach and removed de Sennis to another place. The bodies of the youths were found in a dry creek-bed late yesterday by a hunter. The throats of both had been slashed and Hempel had been shot in the left eye.

Calcaterra and Hempel, officials asserted, had been heard to say they knew the identity of persons involved in several recent robberies in this part of the state.

Governor Orders Troops Out.

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 5. — Governor Frank O. Lowden at 10:30 o'clock tonight received a call from West Frankfort for troops. The call was signed by the sheriff and mayor of West Frankfort, who declared the mob was beyond control of the local officials.

Governor Lowden has ordered five companies of the Ninth Illinois Infantry to proceed at once to West Frankfort under command of Major Wilbur E. Scatterwood of Mt. Vernon.

Photographer Is Killed.

Carbondale, Ill., Aug. 5. — A photographer who attempted to take pictures of the riot in West Frankfort tonight was beaten to death by the mob, according to a message received at the Illinois Central office here from the company's telegraph station at West Frankfort. This is the first death reported from the outbreak there.

MAIL PLANE REACHES RENO IN COAST TO COAST FLIGHT

Salt Lake City, Utah, Aug. 5. — The second of the all mail squadron of airplanes making an experimental mail-carrying flight from New York to San Francisco, arrived here at 2:20 p. m. from Cheyenne, making the trip in 4 hours and 40 minutes. The first plane, which got here yesterday, left for Reno this morning.

Reno, Nevada, Aug. 5. — The aerial mail plane, piloted by D. Acosta, reached the Reno municipal aviation field at 5:45 p. m., having taken 2 hours, 52 minutes to fly from Elko, Nevada, the only stop made between Salt Lake City and Reno. According to Acosta, the plane will remain here until Saturday morning and then will make a non-stop flight to San Francisco.

BINGHAMTON HAS RIVAL OF MYSTERIOUS PONZI

Deceives Credulous Merchants and Cleans Up $50,000 on 21-Cent Capital

SITUATION IS TENSE

United States Minister in Warsaw May Be Compelled to Move
Legation Elsewhere

Binghamton, Aug. 5. — The experiences of "Get Rich Quick Wallingford," and even the colossal financial dealings of Charles Ponzi, the bushy headed millionaire of Boston, who juggled seemingly fabulous sums of money as if they were toys, were almost lost in the shade through an investigation of the frenzied-finance schemes conducted among Binghamton business men by John F. Petrash of 3 Exchange street.

Petrash, who is about 35 years old and said to be a man of pleasing personality, distinguished air and with the appearance of a financier, was arrested Tuesday by Detectives John L. Crawford and Jeremiah Donahue after he had completely fooled, it is said, no less than a dozen prominent business men of this city and had made purchases totaling about $50,000 on capital estimated by the police at about 21 cents, which he had on his person when arrested.

Petrash was examined yesterday by Dr. Charles Longstreet and was committed to the Binghamton State hospital yesterday afternoon for treatment.

Petrash, it is said had purchased a house on Oak street for about $7,200 from a local real estate agency without giving any security, and had already taken possession. His next deal, it is said, was to hire several electricians from a local electrical concern and order new bath tubs, plumbing equipment and other new supplies which were installed at once. The electricians were set at work and it is said had completed about $150 worth of work before the real discovery of affairs was discovered.

At some time during the past week Petrash, it is said, became interested in automobile stock and ordered no less than $20,000 shares of high priced stock from the local concern, although this was never delivered, so officials of the company declared.

A visit was made to an automobile concern in this city where, it is said, Petrash, with the air of a millionaire, ordered a new automobile, giving a personal note for $5,200 payable in three days. In the meantime he visited the garage several times to look over the car and was given a demonstration, but the car according to the members of the firm was not delivered in his charge.

A brooch, said to be worth about $800, was ordered from a prominent jeweler, and the diamonds were reset to suit the taste of the impatient customer, who visited the store several times to personally supervise the setting of the stones.

Furniture valued at $2,800 was ordered from another concern which made haste to get the furniture in shape for the distinguished Mr. Petrash. Another concern on Court street sold Petrash a new revolver and about $200 of new camping supplies. Other deals included in the eventful life of the supposed Binghamton financier included the purchase of a $90 suit of clothes and having about $65 worth of dentist work done.

In no case, so far as could be learned, did Petrash give any money or make any terms except perhaps to give a personal note, the majority of his business transactions being conducted and carried out through his alleged pleasing appearance and distinguished air of a man of means.

Binghamton business men, it is said, who narrowly escaped becoming victims of Petrash, were on the alert yesterday seeking to avoid publicity as to their dealings with the man and also anxious to recover their own property. In several cases it is said that deliveries of property had been made, although most of the merchants will be able to recover their property without loss.

BROOKLYN LANDLORDS FEAR "SOVIET" AMONG TENANTS

New York, Aug. 5. — In seeking to have their tenants restrained from alleged intimidation of prospective tenants, Max and Rose Cutes, landlords of a Brooklyn apartment house, today filed papers with Supreme Court Justice Squires, asserting that a "soviet" of 12 residents had been established there to carry on a vicious warfare against "capitalist rule."

Several months ago the Cutes obtained a dispossess order on the grounds that the tenants were undesirable, but under the new rent laws a stay was granted until September 15. Butchers, bakers and other tradesmen were said to be included as "capitalists" by the "soviet," which was alleged to be ruled by a captain.

ARREST NOTED ANARCHIST.

Chicago, Aug. 5. — John Alexander, alias John LaGranch, alleged international anarchist, and said to be member of the German communist labor party, was arrested here today at the request of New York authorities. Federal authorities said the arrest was the most important made since the war.

BUYERS FORMER GERMAN RAIDER.

Washington, Aug. 5. — Sale of the liner VonStuben, formerly the German commerce raider Kronprinz Wilhelm, to Fred Eggma of New York, for $1,300,000, was announced today by the U. S. Navy. The ship was built in Germany and was used by the German navy during the war.

POLISH TROUBLE ALARMS POWERS

Diplomatic Exchanges Are Reported As Having Been Made Between Allied Governments

SITUATION IS TENSE

United States Minister in War-
saw May Be Compelled to Move
Legation Elsewhere

Washington, Aug. 4. — The Polish situation, described at the state department today as one of "confusion and contention," is understood to have become the subject of diplomatic exchanges, not only between the Allied governments, but between the Allied powers and the United States.

The trend of the exchanges was not disclosed in official circles here, and silence was maintained by officials generally as to the international aspect of the Polish debate.

Official reports to the state department were said to be quite as disquieting as press dispatches and authorization was sent by the department today to the American legation at Warsaw for removal with Allied diplomatic representatives from the capital, now endangered by the westward sweep of the Bolshevik forces.

May Transfer Legation Headquarters.

John C. White, charge d'affaires of the American legation during the absence of Hugh Gibson, the minister, who is in this country, was informed to use his own discretion in leaving Warsaw.

It was said that if the necessity arose as now seems certain, the diplomatic representative probably would go to Grandzow, about 100 miles from the capital toward Danzig.

Announcement was made that Minister Gibson was en route to Washington from California and that he shortly would leave for his post. Mr. Gibson has been in the United States several months on leave, during which he has acted as an advisor to the state department.

Official dispatches giving various sidelights on the Polish situation were received here today. One of these said French military representatives in Warsaw notified the Polish government last week that France would be unable to furnish any combat troops for use against the Bolsheviks. The use of additional officers, however, was offered.

Parallels Situation in 1914.

London, Aug. 5. — Among British officials and diplomats of other nations here undisguised anxiety is felt over the Russo-Polish situation. One high official said: "The situation is as grave as that in August, 1914."

The grave situation of August, 1914, to which London dispatches refer, was that immediately preceding a declaration of war by Great Britain which brought her into the European conflict. In recent days, the Allies have been making an effort through British government channels to induce Soviet Russia to halt her campaign against Poland, after having notified the Russians that the Allies would assist the Poles if Russia made war upon the Polish people. It has been stated in London dispatches, however, that nothing was reliably known which would justify the assumption that such Allied assistance would take the form of a declaration of war.

Large Munition Shipments Ready.

London, Aug. 5. — The Evening News learns that the government today considered the Polish situation and that "large quantities of war material are to be sent immediately in concert with France."

"There is no intention on the part of the Allies," the newspaper adds, "to depart in the slightest degree from their position regarding Poland. The British government may have to call for volunteers within the next few days to aid in the preservation of the Versailles treaty." It would be possible for the war office to send four divisions within the next few weeks, two divisions immediately. Steps are being taken to mobilize the navy, but the cabinet has not yet definitely decided.

Critical State of Affairs.

London, Aug. 5. — In a statement in the House of Commons today in regard to last evening's conference with the Soviet delegates, Premier Lloyd George said he and Mr. Bonar Law made it clear to M. Krassin and M. Kameneff that the immediate conclusion of an armistice on fair terms was the only course which would remove suspicion that the Soviet government was insincere in its professed desire for peace and in its declaration that it intended to respect the independence of Poland.

Premier Lloyd George added that he and Mr. Bonar Law also made it clear that in view of the fact that ethnographical Poland had been invaded, "we would take effective steps to remove obstacles in the way of transmission to Poland from Danzig of military supplies which could be obtained from that quarter."

The Premier concluded: "I think in view of the critical state of affairs I would rather not make any further statement this afternoon, but should unfortunately our suspicions be confirmed, I shall make a full statement to the House Monday, as to such further naval or military action which it may be necessary to take."

He said the whole object of the proposed peace conference in London had been jeopardized by the Soviet's armistice advance.

Premier Lloyd George said the Soviet has not yet replied to Great Britain's note of July 23 proposing the London peace conference. He read the text of another note which Great Britain sent to the Soviet government last Tuesday, after the Soviet demanded that the Polish armistice delegates be empowered also to sign fundamental peace. This note said that if the Soviet insisted on making peace with Poland to the exclusion of other powers, then the project for the London peace conference would have fallen through.

Bolshevik Advance Halted.

Warsaw, Poland, Aug. 5. — The Bolshevik advance against the Poles along the Bug river between Litvsk and the confluence of the Nirecs, has been stopped. The Polish counter-offensive north and south is developing successfully and the new Polish army concentrated between the Narew and Bug rivers have driven the enemy back to the edge of the province of Grodno, notwithstanding the pressure of the Bolshevik forces which crossed the Narew opposite Longa.

In Volhynia, the Polish position upon the Upper Stry, on the Stochod and in the Pripiet marshes, are holding well. Enemy cavalry continues advancing along the Prussian frontier in the direction of the Danzig-Mlava, Warsaw railroad, but in view of the low number of effectives employed, this movement, aimed at the Thora region, constitutes for the moment at least only an extensive demonstration against Polish Pomerania.

Americans Flee Warsaw.

Warsaw, Aug. 5. — Most Americans, excepting welfare workers and others having business in Warsaw, will have departed from this city by tomorrow night, it was announced by the authorities late today. More than 200 left for Danzig tonight, and the American legation has arranged for 350 seat reservations on trains leaving tomorrow.

Welfare workers, who include perhaps 60 or 70 women, who remain in Warsaw, will be provided with transportation by their respective organizations, all of which have well equipped automobiles. Large quantities of baggage have already been shipped out of the city.

The American, British and French legations will probably withdraw when the Polish government is forced to leave, but the course to be pursued by the American legation will depend upon instructions from Washington.

Warsaw went about its business as usual today. Troop detachments, bedecked with flowers, marched, singing, through the streets bound for the front, but this has been a daily occurrence for months and it attracted no particular attention. During the day newspapers here surmised the Bolsheviks were gradually creeping in the direction of Warsaw at two or three points, and the Polish mark took a decided drop, reaching 214 to $1, the lowest point in its history.

Poles Suffer Defense.

Paris, Aug. 5. — Inspired by a wave of patriotism in the rear and encouraged by the arrival of arms and munitions, the Polish army seems to be stiffening in their defense against the invasion of the Bolsheviks, who are virtually at the gates of Warsaw, Poland's capital.

Although but vague and somewhat contradictory reports have reached Paris today, it is regarded here tonight that the Poles still have a chance of stopping the Red drive and limiting the extent of the disaster.

Deny British Ultimatum.

London, Aug. 5. — A statement on the Russo-Polish situation made in the House of Commons today by Premier Lloyd George, showed that the report that Great Britain had sent an ultimatum to the Soviet government in Moscow, was unfounded. The statement showed also that the real situation at present is that the British government is still pressing the Soviet government to conclude an armistice with Poland on fair terms and agree to negotiate for peace at the conference already proposed by the Allies to be held in London.

Would Hinder Troop Movement.

London, Aug. 5. — The Bavarian traffic council has decided to issue a proclamation to the postal and telegraph employees calling on them to prevent the conveyance of entente troops of arms and munitions by all means, paralyzing, if necessary, the whole of the Bavarian transport system, says a wireless dispatch from Berlin.

HAMPER TROOP MOVEMENT.

Berlin, Aug. 5. — The German government is determined to prevent by all means the entente from sending troops through Germany to help Poland, according to declarations made in the Reichstag today by Dr. Walter Simons, the foreign minister. Dr. Simons intimated that if the necessity arose, Germany would fight to prevent such a "violation" of German territory.

PANAMA POPULATION FIGURES.

Panama, Panama, Aug. 5. — The census returns for the republic of Panama announced today show a total population of 491,423, not including Indians. The increase over 1914 was 33 per cent.

WAR VETERANS' GUEST

Nominee Pleads For Ratification of Suffrage Amendment By Tennessee Lawmakers

Marion, O., Aug. 5. — A plea that further questions of peace and war be decided by the nation's conscience and not by any council of foreign powers was voiced today by Senator Harding in a talk to a cheering crowd of Spanish War Veterans, gathered here in reunion.

"Here in America," he said, "we do not need any one to tell us what our obligation is. We can read it in our own conscience. I want to hold the American conscience strictly and solely American."

"I want America to play its part in the world, but I do not want a council of foreign powers at any time, for any reason, to summon the sons of America to battle."

National Spirit Awakening.

It was a national spirit awakening to the defense of American rights, the nominee asserted, that led this country into both the Spanish War and the World War and that always could be counted on to hold the republic secure. He added that although underlying conditions of humanity had urged the United States in both conflicts, it had required a physical infringement of national rights in each case to start the flag of war.

The talk was made in response to the clamorous demand of the veterans, who were members of the Fourth Ohio Infantry, when the Senator and Mrs. Harding accepted an invitation to be the regiment's guest of honor at their reunion. The visit to the reunion came near the end of a day given over by the nominee almost entirely to correspondence and other work at his desk. One subject of attention was the woman suffrage situation in Tennessee, which he canvassed carefully on the basis of detailed information gathered at his request by the Republican National committee.

Fights For Suffrage Amendment.

In the light of this information, he determined to take "a more direct course in appealing for the suffrage amendment, and he sent telegrams to both suffrage and party leaders at Nashville, expressing his views. To State Senator Houk, the Republican state chairman, he telegraphed that Republican legislators could "serve both party and country" by aiding ratification.

Organization of a Marion delegation to the notification Saturday of Governor Cox, the Democratic nominee at Dayton, was the subject of an official statement issued tonight by Harding headquarters. It accused the Cox boosters of guaranteeing free tickets and expenses in order to swell the delegation, and to make a showing for "pictures by movie machines."

Pleads for Ratification.

Marion, O., Aug. 5. — Further influence for ratification of the woman suffrage amendment by the Tennessee legislature was exerted today by Senator Harding in telegrams to Republican and suffrage leaders at Nashville. To State Senator John C. Houk, chairman of the Republican state committee, the nominee wired as follows:

"With the approach of a decision by the general assembly of Tennessee on the matter of ratifying the suffrage amendment to the federal constitution, I would like to be advised as to the belief that the Tennessee Republicans are in a position to serve both party and country by effecting ratification. Will welcome advice as to whether I can aid in securing this act of justice to the women citizenship of our nation."

He also sent telegrams of encouragement to Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, president of the National Woman Suffrage association, and Mrs. George Fort Milton, president of the Tennessee League of Women Voters.

Correspondence occupied Senator Harding most of today, although he set aside time in the afternoon to receive a delegation from Ohio State university and to visit as a guest of honor the reunion here of the Civil war veterans of the old Fourth Ohio Infantry. The delegation from the university was to arrive late in the day and be received by the nominee on the front porch, but he did not intend to make a speech.

No Speaking Tour Planned.

New York, Aug. 5. — The "front porch campaign" is still the plan of Senator Warren G. Harding. His official office the national organization has tried to influence his decision. It was said.

"It is understood, however, that this determination does not preclude the possibility of ever the likelihood of Senator Harding making speeches in some of the large cities. He had been repeatedly urged to do this, but the decision that there will be no 'turn storming' and no 'swing around the circle' has not been changed."

Philadelphia, Aug. 5. — August Pasquale, the man in custody charged with kidnapping the infant son of George H. Coughlin of Norristown, Pa., was this afternoon identified as August Pasquale, said by the police to be a former jail inmate and notorious crook. The announcement was made by George H. Leonard, chief postal inspector, who has been active in running the kidnapper to earth.

Pasquale has a long criminal record. He served sentences in Elmira, N. Y., and Newark, N. J. He was released from prison in this city about four months ago. He is 35 years old. Pasquale also is known to the police as John Ponz and Harry Williams.

According to Leonard, Pasquale said today he was hired by a man to go to New Jersey to hang out the white sheet which was to serve as a signal to the father of the kidnapped child.

When the father saw the signal from the railroad car window Monday, he threw out the decoy bag supposed to contain the $10,000 ransom money. Pasquale appeared from his hiding place, picked up the bag and was arrested.

This is the only information that could be extracted from Pasquale after 70 hours of grilling. He refused to explain the possession of wealth for months after he had been released from prison in a penitentiary condition. The police are working on the theory that the Coughlin child is being held by a band of criminals.

FARMER-LABOR PARTY HAS BREAK IN RANKS

Reorganization of Committee of 48 Along Party's Original Lines Is Planned

New York, Aug. 5. — An announcement that the committee of 48 was preparing to withdraw formally from all connection with the Farmer Labor party, of which Parley P. Christensen is the presidential nominee, today followed closely by H. A. McCollum and Charles A. Weaver, who are resigning as officials and members of the Utah Farmer Labor organization, that the party was controlled by the Industrial Workers of the World.

Reorganization of the committee of 48 along the original lines of the party will be undertaken at a meeting of the executive committee next Monday according to Allen McCurdy, secretary of the 48. In a statement issued today he said the Farmer Labor party is a "radical organization" and does not adhere to the principles upon which the committee of 48 attempted to build a national party.

Replying to the charges of Mr. McCollum and Weaver, Mr. Christensen declared the Farmer Labor party is not under I. W. W. control, but is composed of everyday Americans seeking relief from the intolerable economic autocracy obtaining in this country. In a formal statement, Mr. Christensen challenged the political integrity of Messrs McCollum and Weaver.

THREE MOTORISTS KILLED.

Binghamton, Aug. 5. — R. J. Hellawell of Brooklyn, his wife, and six-year-old daughter, were instantly killed at 2 o'clock this afternoon, when their automobile was struck by Erie Train No. 4, near Kirkwood. The car was driven into the ditch at the side of the tracks as the train rushed by and toppled over against the second coach, crushing and mangleing the occupants. Mr. Hellawell was secretary of the A. G. Spaulding & Brothers Sporting Goods company. The family were returning to their home in Brooklyn from Leon lake.

PLAN MAINE CAMPAIGN

Chicago, Aug. 5. — Plans for the Republican campaign in Maine, where the general elections are to be held this year on September 12, were laid today at Republican national headquarters. Four speakers from the western bureau will be among those sent into Maine to speak for Senator Harding and Governor Coolidge. They are Congressman Nicholas Longworth, of Ohio; Henry Lane Wilson of Montana, former ambassador to Mexico; George E. Foss of Illinois, former congressman, and Leslie M. Shaw, ex-secretary of the treasury.

BLOCKADE IS REESTABLISHED.

London, Aug. 5. — The Herald, the Laborite organ, said today that the British North Sea squadron has been ordered to the Baltic sea and that instructions have been issued to reimpose the blockade against Russia.

ONE MAN KILLED IN DENVER RIOTS

Scores Likewise Are Injured in Outbreaks Fanned By Striking Street Car Men

TROOPS ARE CALLED

Public Buildings As Well As Railway Property Is Subjected to Violence of Strikers

Denver, Col., Aug. 5. — One man was killed, between 50 and 75 persons including Chief of Police Hamilton Armstrong and eight or ten other policemen were injured, several seriously, in rioting between striking street car men, their sympathizers and strike-breakers tonight. Five street cars have been wrecked and the plant of the Denver Post damaged by the crowd.

The mob at 10:30 p. m. was gathering in front of the tramway building, where the strike breakers are housed, but had attempted no violence. Rioting Is Uninterrupted.

The rioting started this afternoon when two cars manned by strike breakers were forced to stop by a motor truck on the track. While the cars were halted, a parade of strikers and sympathizers who had been conducting a demonstration at the City hall, while a committee from the Trades and Labor assembly conferred with the mayor, reached the corner. There were 1,000 in the parade. Fighting immediately became general and has continued almost steadily ever since in various portions of the city.

Street cars were wrecked, others were turned on their sides in front of the Cathedral of Immaculate Conception.

Strike breakers who manned the last two cars took refuge inside the cathedral and remained there until rescued by the police. The mob gathered in front of the Post building just after attacking the first cars. It was scattered without having done more than taking copies of the afternoon edition from newsboys and littering the street with them. The Post had opposed the strike.

Wreck Newspaper Office.

At 8 o'clock, the crowd again gathered in front of the Post. Nearly all of the windows in the plant, a three-story building, and in a new one being built, were broken. When Post employees hoisted an "American flag" over the building, the rioting subsided, but was renewed a few minutes later with greater vigor.

The mob then entered the building. Hammers and spikes were thrown into the linotype machines. Paper rolls were moved into the streets, water was poured on the presses and the presses damaged by hammers. Shots were fired several times during the trouble. Many were injured by being struck by flying bricks and other missiles. No accurate amount of the injuries was obtainable. There was no statement in the rioting at 10:30 p. m.

Denver, Col., Aug. 5. — General fighting between striking street car men and strike breakers broke out at a downtown corner tonight. Three riot calls were turned in. Four men were shot. Police arrested a large number of men in connection with the affair. The fighting started when alleged strikers attempted to turn over a street car manned by strike breakers.

Rioters overturned and wrecked a street car near the cathedral of the Immaculate Conception. The strike breakers on the street car sought refuge in the cathedral when they have barricaded themselves. The mob entered the Denver Post building and wrecked the presses and other equipment. It had previously broken practically every window in the structure.

At 9:25 p. m., troops were reported coming to Denver from Fort Logan. At that hour a mob was marching toward the city hall. There were cries of "wreck the hall."

VILLA GIVEN GUARD OF 50 FOR PERSONAL PROTECTION

Mexico City, Aug. 5. — The text of the agreement to surrender signed by Francisco Villa, the rebel leader, at Salinas, on July 28, is published in dispatches received today from San Pedro Coahuila. The terms are substantially as published that day. They provide for Villa's retirement to private life with a guard of 50 men for his own protection. The remainder of his followers get a year's pay and farm land.

The Villa forces are given as nine generals, 33 colonels, 25 lieutenant colonels, 33 majors, 35 captains, 34 lieutenants, 41 sub-lieutenants and 555 non-commissioned officers and privates.

SEIZE PATROL SHIP.

San Diego, Cal., Aug. 5. — Hostilities have begun at Ensenada in the rebellion of Governor Esteban Camacho against the Mexican central federal government with seizure by Camacho authorities of the Mexican patrol ship Tecate, killing of Captain Cepeda, of the Tecate, and arrest or slaying of the crew, according to information brought to San Diego today. Seizure of the Tecate and shooting of her captain took place night before last.

SHOPMEN DEFEAT THE REDS.

Steal of Home Gives Them Victory After a Poor Start.

Although the Shopmen got a poor start last evening in the second game of the Twilight league, they put on a rally in the last round of the seven-inning game and trimmed the Reds to the tune of 4 to 3. The game was played remarkably well and was amateur baseball at its best.

The Reds opened the game by getting three runs the first inning, although they made but one hit, errors on the part of the Shopmen being responsible. The score continued 3 to 0 until the fifth inning, when the Shopmen succeeded in bringing in two runners, and by repeating the procedure in the last round they had the game on ice. The winning run was scored by Keeble, the Shopmen's steady pitcher, who stole home from third after Mills had popped out.

The line-up and score:

REDS
St. John, 1c.
Hiller, 2c.
Damascus, 3c.
Bustard, 4c.
E. Kniskern, 5c.

SHOEMAKERS TAKE SERIES

Defeat Oneonta in Fourth Straight Game of $1,000 Series—Outplayed Cubs in All Departments of the Game—No Game Today.

Yesterday afternoon at Neahwa park, Fischer's aggregation of baseball artists again demonstrated the fact that they are some team. They had the locals at their mercy throughout the entire tilt and never once were in danger of losing.

The shoemakers have the fastest collection of ball tossers in these parts and their playing yesterday was up to par. Weingartner was hit for a total of seven safeties, two of which were doubles, but the visiting moundmen kept them scattered. The only error the E-J crowd made was by their twirler, who threw wild to Tanglefoot Tiffany, apparently because he was too sure of the out.

Weingartner also passed five batters, but he scattered these too. The sensational play of the afternoon was the peg by Kibbe from deep left to third, catching Sullivan trying to stretch a double into a triple. The visitors were credited with six double hits and one homer, which went over Herrieff's section of the fence for a hat. Smith was the lucky hitter.

Sullivan, first up in the third, clouted a double between left and center and scored when Dural mixed up Smith's grounder. Smith stole second and went on a peg as Reiter let Lottis Hanley's grounder go through him for a couple of sacks. Fischer was passed. Murphy hit to Davis who threw to Boylan for a force out at the plate. Boylan then heaved the pill to first, completing a double play and ending the inning, as well as pulling the locals out of a bad hole. In the fifth, they scored another when Smith got a bat. In the sixth, Tiffany popped a safety when about half the infield played Alphonso and Gaston. Sweet was hit by a pitched ball, putting Tiffany on the middle. Weingartner sacrificed both men a station, for the first out. Sullivan drove a fast one to Dempsey, who made an equally fast return to the plate, retiring Tiffany. Sullivan and Sweet pulled off a double steal, putting the third run of the game across. Smith hit to Dempsey, who made a good stop and peg to first for the completion of the inning.

The Shoemakers sewed up the game right in the seventh. By means of a base on balls, a couple of errors, a pair of singles and a double, E-J put a trio of brownies across the rubber. The best Oneonta could do was to get men on base a couple of times, but on each occasion two were down and the third was easy.

There will be no game today.

POLISH FEARS BEAR HEAVILY ON MARKET

Renewed Liquidation and Short Selling Bring Losses of One to Ten Points

New York, Aug. 5.—Unfavorable foreign news bearing on the Polish situation and renewed liquidation and short selling caused losses among industrial stocks of one to ten points in today's market. Except for an interval in the first hour, when a rise in railroad shares had a panic effect, the downward movement was continuous. Conditions in the foreign exchange and money market were more favorable, but were ignored.

Reports that the banks had called loans and certain industrial collateral attended the decline. The bear faction devoted their energies to driving down individual shares, causing uneasiness among holders of other securities as to where the attack would be next directed. Oils, steels, shipplings, sugars and leathers were the target at various times and the precipitate decline in these groups dragged down the balance of the list.

Resistance was poor against the wave of selling, even the investment railroads falling back one to three points. Middle States Oil crashed from 20 1/2 to 10 1/2 on dealings approximating 250,000. This break was a signal for active selling of other low priced oils and a varied list of specialties.

Uncertainties and lack of definite information as to business conditions and dividend policies of various companies also was instrumental in shaking confidence among share holders. The bond market maintained a fairly good tone in face of the extreme weakness of stocks. Foreign issues fluctuated narrowly and Liberty bonds were irregular. Old U. S. bonds were unchanged on call.

NOTES OF SPORT

Elbridge Adams, 21, has been named captain of the Williams college golf team for next season.

All of the other countries are busy telling what a fine lot of athletes they will have at the Olympic games.

It is said that of the 50 prominent preparatory school athletes entering Yale next fall, 15 of them are major sports captains.

By defeating Johnny Bashman, the British champion, Ted (Kid) Lewis has won the right to call himself welterweight champion of Europe.

John Henry, former National, who coached the Cornell university baseball team this season will not be re-engaged, it has been announced.

The way our golf and tennis players have been performing on the other side makes us think that the Britishers will be beaten at their own games.

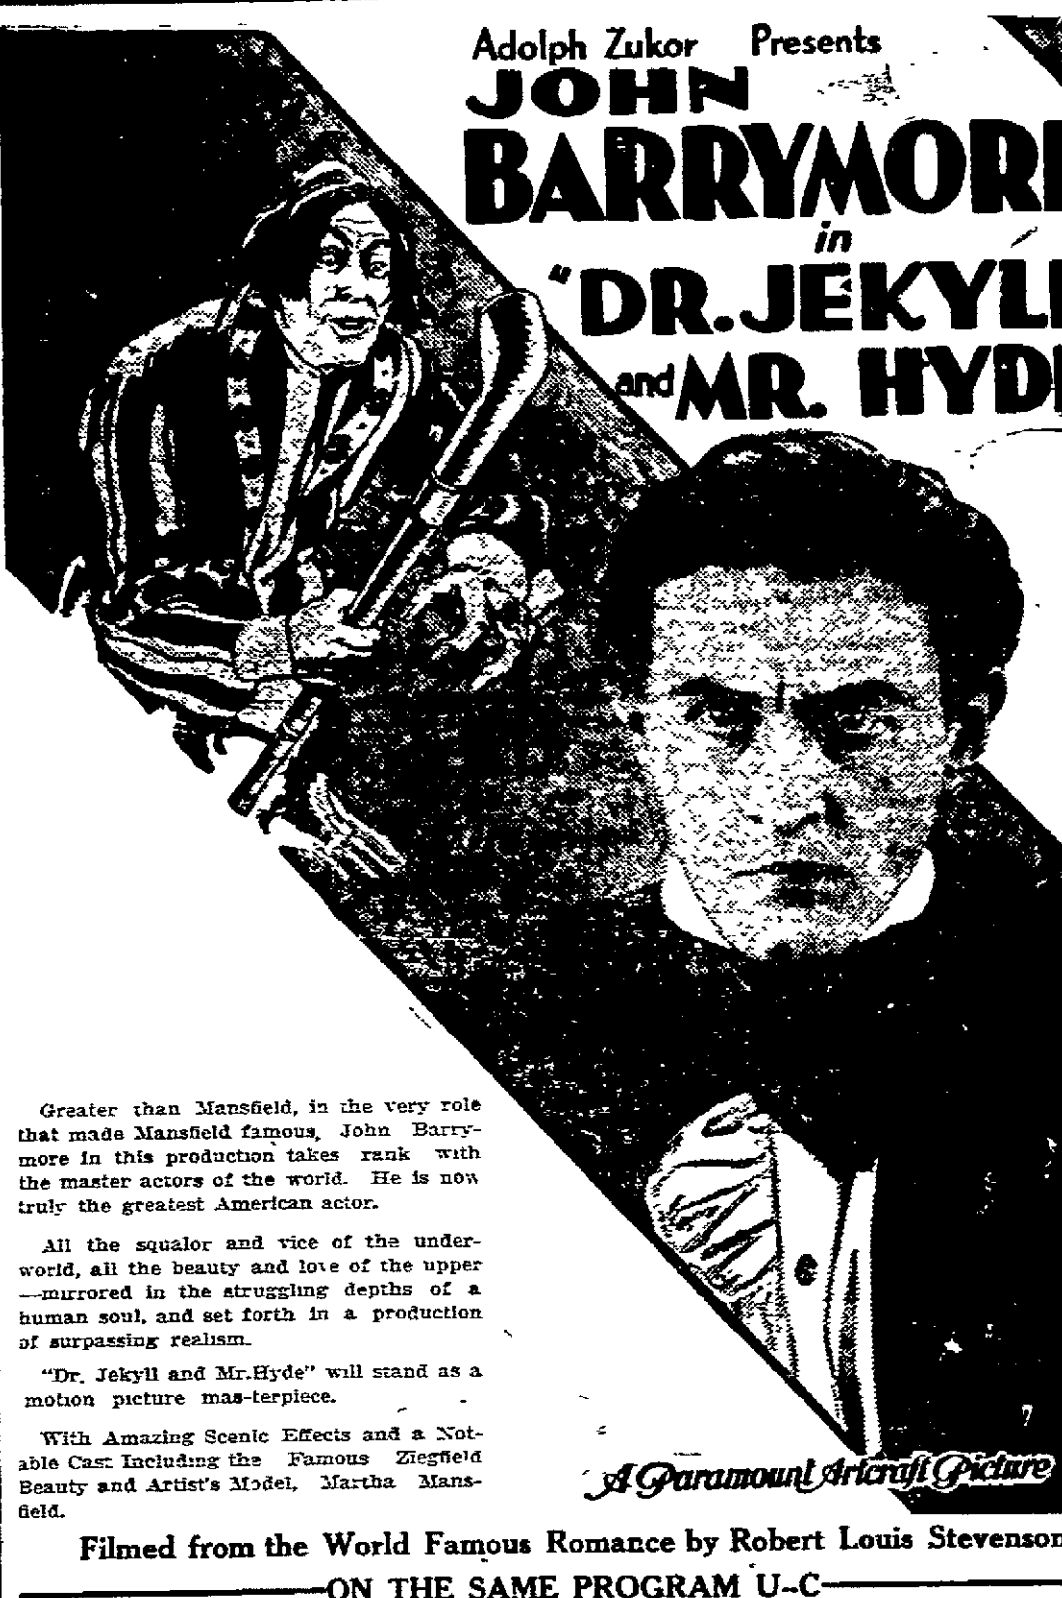

Canadian bettors are not in evidence this year. The fact that their money is worth about 80 cents on the dollar decides them to tackle some other game.

THEIR CHIEF VOCATION.

The attention of the women of America, and of the men, too, for that matter, has recently been called to the interesting fact that no matter what other enterprise or occupation women may for a greater or less time engage in, their ultimate vocation is home making. To whatever fields they wander, whether in store or office, or school or other occupation, in the end 93 per cent of them all come back to the home. Of scarcely less interest is the fact that 90 per cent of the money spent for maintaining the home is expended by the women of the family.

Taking advantage of these statements, the New York State school of Agriculture at Cobleskill has planned for a one-year course in Home Economics. No charge is made for tuition, and the course is so short that any young woman who so desires can pursue it. The training is in the highest degree essential, and will be of value alike to one who seeks to give instruction in this work and to those who in years to come will be part of that great 93 per cent who are to become the light of the household.

The Cobleskill school asks that this be printed generally by the press in this section. The star cheerfully complies with thought alike for the welfare of the school and for that of the home and community. Address State School of Agriculture at Cobleskill for a copy of the new catalogue and full particulars.

CONCERNING THE WEATHER.

The weather was generally fair, except for moderate to heavy thunder showers during the middle of the week, and with few exceptions the conditions were favorable for crop growth and farm operations, according to the summary of weather and crop conditions in New York state for the week ending August 2, sent out from the Ithaca office of the weather bureau.

Haying was somewhat delayed by the showers, but there were several days of good curing weather in most sections. There were some reports of inability to cultivate on account of the wet soil. The nights continued too cool for corn, but some improvement from last week is in evidence. The condition of the crop varies widely in different sections, ranging from poor to very good. Early planted fields are tasseling. The harvest of wheat and rye progressed satisfactorily, under generally favorable conditions. Threshing is under way and the fitting of the ground for next year's crop has commenced.

THE JULY POLICE RECORD.

Many Arrests Made by Local Force—Twenty-Six Auto Accidents.

A perusal of the local police department's blotter reveals that the month of July was a busy one for the force, there being a large number of arrests, and, what is perhaps more noticeable, many of the offenses were of a serious nature.

The greatest number of arrests for a single offense was for public intoxication, 13 men being taken into custody while in a rather unsteady condition on the city's streets. One was sentenced to 90 days in the county jail, seven paid fines of $10 each, four deposited $5 apiece into the city's treasury, and one was paroled.

In the class of more serious offenses are included three young men who were arrested on a charge of rape in the second degree. They are awaiting the action of the next grand jury. The two girls said to have been their companions were sent to the training school at Hudson.

Two local men were taken into custody for violations of the "dry" law. They were arrested on two charges, for having liquor in their possession unlawfully and for trafficking in liquor. Their case will come up at the next grand jury.

One man was arrested for alleged non-support. He was paroled and ordered to pay $12 weekly for the support of his wife and child.

Another arrest was for grand larceny in the second degree; to be disposed of by the next grand jury. A man who violated the penal law paid a fine of $25.

There were two cases of assault in the third degree, one of the prisoners being fined $10 and the other $15. One man was charged with carrying his board bill, but the case was dismissed after he had made good. Five boys arrested for juvenile delinquency as a result of petty thefts were paroled in the custody of city authorities. Sentence was suspended on another man charged with illegally having firearms in his possession.

Police officers during the month apprehended 24 motorists who had violated traffic ordinances. Two charged with reckless driving paid $10 fines, and six speeders deposited $5 apiece into the city treasury. Ten charged with minor offenses were fined $1 each, one was fined $2, and five were given suspended sentences.

With the increase of autos during the summer months, there was a corresponding increase in the number of accidents reported. For the month of July 26 motorists called at police headquarters to report accidents. Fortunately, however, most of these were

PLANS COMMUNITY CENTER

Portlandville Methodist Episcopal Church Buys Rose Hall—Home for Social, Civic and Athletic Activities—Church to Hold Community Picnic.

As the result of a movement which for some time has been quietly under way, Portlandville is to have a community center, being the first village in Otsego county to undertake a project much talked about and acknowledged to be of great benefit, but which has not in general advanced much in this section beyond the period of discussion. Knowledge of this undertaking will be of interest not only to present and former residents, but to citizens of communities which doubtless have been waiting only for some other town to blaze the trail.

The Portlandville project is under the auspices of the Methodist Episcopal church of that village, and it took concrete form on Wednesday, when the trustees of that society, who are C. D. McLaury, W. L. Wellman, S. K. Sacet, I. S. Blanchard, Charles Morey and Harvey Westcott, purchased from Mrs. C. K. Rose the building situated on Main street east of the Christian church, and recently known as Rose hall, although at an earlier date as VanEtten hall. The purchase price of the property is $1,000, and the hall will be at once renovated and repaired and put in condition for the community work which it is proposed to undertake, and which, though owned and under the supervision of the church, will be entirely undenominational, and intended for the good of all.

The building, which in size is approximately 40 by 100 feet, contains a hall of goodly dimensions, with stage, and with living rooms in the rear which can easily be refitted for home bureau, church and neighborhood societies and other similar work. The hall itself will be used for a gymnasium, various athletic contests and basketball games; and for such entertainments as are approved by the board of directors. If a Boy Scout troop is organized it will also doubtless have its headquarters in the new hall, and it will also be available for concerts, lectures, singing schools and all forms of social gatherings which alike for young and old make for the public welfare.

Much credit for the Portlandville plan is due to Rev. Wm. E. Elwood, who came to the church last spring from Great Bend and Halstead, and has during the four months of his sojourn done much for church and community. The church itself is crowded every Sunday, the attendance consisting not merely of the membership, but by many others, who are interested in the very practical forms of applied Christianity which his sermons and his work enforce.

General Community Day.

The Portlandville church, which has with so much enthusiasm taken up the community work, is planning for a general community day, to be held on Saturday, August 21, at CHS in Goodyear lake, and which not only all residents of the home town but all from Oneonta to Cooperstown inclusive, and the towns between are invited to attend. There will be a speaker of prominence from the Department of Agriculture at Albany, a demonstration by the Farm bureau, ball games, tug of war, races and many other athletic events, and every effort will be put forth toward making the community day a big success. Everybody is invited to attend, bring their lunches and make the occasion a full day of enjoyment. Ice cream and soft drinks will be served by the ladies of the church.

Though this service will be rendered, the community day is not in any sense a money-making project. The sale above noted is not for financial gain but for the convenience of visitors.

THE WEATHER FOR JULY.

Temperature, Winds and Rainfall in Oneonta For Last Month.

The observers' meteorological record of the weather in Oneonta for the month of July shows an average maximum temperature of 79.4 degrees and an average minimum of 54.3 degrees. The lowest temperature was 42 degrees on the mornings of July 25 and 27. The highest was 87 degrees on the 14th and the greatest daily range was from 42 to 89 degrees on the 27th. The average temperature was 67 degrees. The average mean for eight years has been 69.5 degrees. In no July of the eight years has it been as low as in 1920.

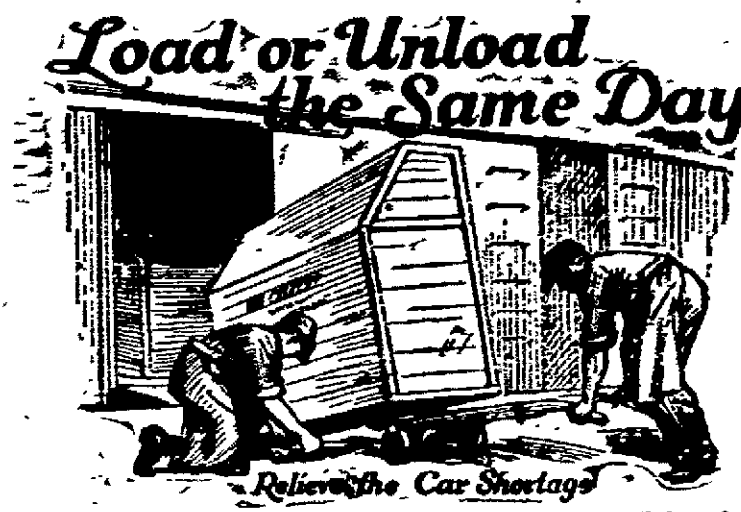

The rainfall for the month was 4.40 inches, which is .45 of an inch below the eight year average, which was made high by the exceptional rainfall of July in 1914 and '15. The greatest rainfall—nearly one third of the total for the month, was on the 19th, and was 1.35 inches. There were 11 clear, 12 partly cloudy and 8 cloudy days. As usual, the prevailing wind was from the west, northwest and southwest, there being 7 days with west winds, 9 with northwest and 11 with southwest. There were but four days with a south wind and none when the set was from the east.

Otsego Gives Support to Lunn.

In the battle-royal at the State Democratic convention at Saratoga between the organization and Mayor Lunn of Schenectady and his adherents, two of the 15 supporters of the mayor in his vigorous opposition to the machine and its 25 beer plank were from Otsego county. It is understood that these supporters of Mayor Lunn were Messrs. Beardsley of Hartwick and James J. Byard of Otsego.

of a minor nature and did not result in the injury of anyone.

Other activities of the department during the month included locking doors of 11 business places that had been left open. Only two men applied for a night's lodging, indicating that nowadays there is little idleness and a noticeable dearth of "hobos."

Load or Unload the Same Day

Relieve the Car Shortage

(National Crop Improvement Service.)
As the demand for cars is unabated and there is little chance for getting any more cars, why not use the cars we have to the fullest capacity?
The Chicago Piano & Organ association, has started a campaign among its members suggesting that requests be sent to all customers urging everyone to speed up. They say:
"With the impending crop movement upon us and the movement of coal together with the tremendous tonnage of other products, it is recommended that the best possible use be made of present facilities.
"If 1,000 car users will load or unload one car one day earlier, 1,000 cars per day will be released for service.
"We recommend that orders be placed now for shipment as early as goods can be removed. An earnest, tangible effort on the part of our trade to assist transportation authorities, will go far toward preventing priority orders of any action tending to deprive us of transportation facilities."
This appeal is being handed along to all of the other lines of trade. It is said that we are 200,000 freight cars short. A loaded freight car should travel about 20 miles a day. We should from the million or so cars we have now, be able to largely offset the lack of cars by speeding up our loading and unloading.

WEST END AND THE PLAINS

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Strait Move to Lower Chestnut Street—W. C. T. U. Holds Enjoyable Picnic.

Russell Ward, formerly of Schenectady, took possession yesterday of the desirable bungalow at 16 Madison avenue he has purchased of William H. McCall. Mr. Ward is employed on the D. & H. railroad and expects to make his home here in the future. Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Strait, who have been occupying the bungalow for some time, yesterday removed to the new and spacious residence on Lower Chestnut street also occupied by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William McCall.

Plains W. C. T. U. Enjoys Picnic.

About 30 members of the Plains W. C. T. U. enjoyed a picnic Wednesday at Mrs. William Stanton's grove at Colliers. The ladies were carried to and from the grove in Mr. Barragar's auto truck. At noon, a bounteous meal was served and was partaken of with keen relish. The happy gathering returned to their homes late in the day after a thoroughly enjoyable picnic.

Points About People.

W. S. and Doan Gardner, with the Misses Lucy and Blanche Gardiner and Mrs. Ann Sinclair, all of East Springfield, were guests Tuesday of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Shafer, 355 Chestnut street.

Miss Marion Flint of Gilbertsville is the guest of Miss Claudine Hendrix of the Junction.

Mrs. Maurice Barnett of 18 West End avenue had as her guests yesterday her great grandmother, Mrs. Alvera Marsh, and Mr. Barnett's grandmother, Mrs. E. A. Brewer, both of West End. Mrs. Barnett is convalescing from a surgical operation she recently underwent and thoroughly enjoyed the visit, especially since this was the first time Mrs. Marsh, who is 90 years of age, had been able to make a call in many months.

Mrs. George Gilbert of Margaretville is spending a few days as the

COLONEL HUNT IS ACQUITTED

Completely Exonerated of Blame for Escape of Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, Draft Dodger.

New York, Aug. 5.—Colonel John E. Hunt, former commander of the Fort Jay military prison, has been acquitted of a charge of neglect of duty in connection with the escape of Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, wealthy Philadelphia draft dodger, it is announced. Colonel Hunt was fully exonerated of blame in the approval of the court's acquittal by Major General Bullard, commanding the department of the East.

The specific charge against Colonel Hunt was that he had not provided sufficient guards for Bergdoll, who eluded two sergeants of nearly 20 years' army experience, when he escaped from his Philadelphia home May 20. He was out of prison on special permission from the war department, ostensibly to recover a large sum of gold he said he previously had cached in the hills near Hagerstown, Md.

No handcuffs were used on Bergdoll in his trip to Philadelphia and Hagerstown, because Colonel Hunt had received orders that Bergdoll's mission was "confidential," the colonel said. Handcuffs would have made him and his party conspicuous, he said.

LOCAL MENTION.

Quite So!

My wife and I are always separating. And yet we get along like turtle doves;
We have no angry hours of debating—She has my heart and I'm the one she loves.
We never look up trains that go to Reno
And we're very shy of lawyers and their ilk;
For though each day we're separating, we know
We're separating milk!

BOY SCOUTS TO THE RESCUE.

Monday is Day Set for the Outing to Commence.

Delighted with the prospect of a few days in camp, about 30 boys of the city have signified their intention of taking part in the Boy Scout outing if it can be provided for them. The prospects at present look very favorable that the outing will take place, but the extent to which it will reach is unknown, as there is likely to be a lack of funds. The city of Oneonta should appreciate the fact that this organization is not only a benefit to the city, but that the boys deserve a regular "good" time, and that now is the time for them to get it.

E. W. Engler, instructor of manual training in the Oneonta High school, has been engaged to take charge of the camp at Goodyear lake and have oversight of the activities of the boys. The first bunch to start will leave the city Monday and will be followed after a few days by as many more as can be accommodated. Plans are not yet fully completed for the start, another meeting of the "Scouts" being called for tonight in the Chamber of Commerce rooms at 7:30 o'clock. All boys who have not come out will be given another opportunity to take the outing, and all who have already signified their intention are requested to be present and get in touch with the plans.

MRS. BRITAIN 100 YEARS OLD

AGED WOMAN WITH MANY FRIENDS HERE CELEBRATES ANNIVERSARY TODAY.

Mother of Mrs. Anna Street and Grandmother of A. R. and Frank Street of Oneonta, Has Had Long and Useful Career — Children 20 Do Her Honor Today.

Having enjoyed an active life through a century filled with epochal events, Mrs. Charlotte C. Britain, well known in this city, where her children and grandchildren reside, today will celebrate at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Nelson Jones, in Esperance, the one hundredth anniversary of her birth. Notwithstanding her advanced years, Mrs. Britain appears to be in good health and it would not surprise her friends should she live several years more.

In honor of the unusual event, Mrs. Britain's children and grandchildren will gather at Esperance today to offer their regards. Those from Oneonta who plan to attend are her daughter, Mrs. Anna Street, and her two grandsons, A. B. Street and Frank Street. Mrs. N. W. Mills of Binghamton, another grandchild, also will probably be present with her daughter, Miss Pauline Mills, the only great grandchild of Mrs. Britain. The day will be spent quietly and for the entire enjoyment of the aged guest of honor. The children and grandchildren will carry many bouquets of flowers as tokens of their esteem.

Mrs. Britain has been a life-long resident of New York state, being a native of Western New York. Her husband was a farmer by occupation and they continued to live in Dansville and vicinity until nearly 50 years ago, when they went to Esperance, where Mr. Britain died a short time later. Since then, Mrs. Britain has been living with her children in Albany, Esperance and Oneonta. Her last visit to this city was in the summer of 1919, and her friends here were amazed at her apparently unending vitality. Up until a few years ago, when her eyes began to grow dim, she was an expert with the needle and her embroidered work was admired by all. The relatives who go to do her honor today will carry with them the best wishes of many friends for the future happiness of Mrs. Britain and the hope that her already long life may be continued.

In the year when Mrs. Britain was born James Monroe was president of the United States, George IV king of England, and Louis XVIII king of France. The Erie canal was being dug and was not finished until 1825. The Monroe doctrine was not enunciated until 1823. She had lived 24 years before the first telegraph was built, ten years before the first steamship crossed the Atlantic. Mexico was still a province of Spain in 1820, and practically the whole of South America was also ruled by Spain and Portugal. In fact, the only important republics of the world at that time were the United States and Switzerland. She has lived to see, says Great Britain and a few minor European countries, the whole world self-governed. She has seen the canal come and go as a means of passenger traffic, has seen the tallow dip and whale oil lamp superseded by gas and electricity, the slower post by wired and wireless telegraphy, has seen the invention of the telephone and has known of it not heard people talking without wires through the wireless air for thousands of miles, has seen men fly and ships journey beneath the waves from continent to continent. It is a great century which she has lived in, how great can but feebly be understood even by this retrospect.

I have just returned from New York city and feel that I have completed the most successful buying trip I have ever made. I have purchased for immediate and fall delivery the most complete assortment of gift novelties I have ever been able to find. For the wedding and holiday season to come the Diamond House of Oneonta will be a delight to the gift buyer. I also purchased a very fine assortment of diamonds. Prices right. FIGURE IN AUTO COLLISION.

Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Millard of Laurens, Fortunately Escape Injury.

Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Millard of Laurens arrived home Wednesday evening from a motor trip in the New England states which proved enjoyable despite the fact that they had a narrow escape from serious injury near Pittsfield, Mass., last Saturday. Their car was somewhat damaged in the accident, but they had it repaired and drove home in it.

The Berkshire Evening Eagle, a Pittsfield newspaper, reports the accident as follows:

"Automobiles driven by Stewart C. Millard of Laurens, N. Y., and Elmer Tracey, a Connecticut party, figured in a collision on the Berkshire road above Coltsville in this city at about 8:20 o'clock this (Saturday) morning. Mrs. Tracey, wife of one of the drivers, was cut about the face but nobody else was injured, although the Metz car owned by Mr. Tracey was badly wrecked and the Cadillac machine owned by Mr. Millard was considerably damaged. In each car were the driver and his wife.

"Mr. Tracey was driving toward the city and Mr. Millard was going in the opposite direction. Mr. Tracey, while on the left-hand side of the road, was so interested in a henhawk that had been shot and put on a clothesline that he did not see the other automobile until just before the crash came. Mr. Millard, who was on his right side of the road, turned to the left, hoping to avoid the crash, and then Mr. Tracey turned his car, with the result that there was a terrific collision. It was surprising nobody was seriously injured."

LASKARIS AND LAMBROS WIN

ACQUITTED IN CITY COURT OF ALLEGED VIOLATION OF LABOR LAW.

Contention That Their Stores Are Operated on Federal Time is Upheld—Federal Laws Are Superior to State Laws, Juries in Two Cases Decide. After trials that consumed all day, John G. Laskaris and Harry Lambros were acquitted by juries in city court yesterday of a charge of violating the state labor law relative to hours of women employees. The outcome is of special interest since it involved the question of whether federal or state laws should prevail in case of a conflict.

It will be recalled that Laskaris and Lambros were brought into court early in June on complaint of Special Agent Fisher, of the New York State Industrial commission, who alleged that he found girls working in their establishments at 10:50 p. m. The state law provides that no woman employed in a mercantile establishment shall be compelled to work after 10 p. m.

The two proprietors were represented in court yesterday by Attorneys George L. Becker and George Wohlleben. The chief point of their case was that the stores of Messrs. Laskaris and Lambros were being conducted on Eastern Standard time and that when Mr. Fisher found the girl working at 10:50 o'clock, it was only 9:50 by legal time. Mr. Fisher, who was in court, had as his attorney William Cunningham of New York city, first assistant counsel to the industrial commission.

It was the contention of the attorneys for Laskaris and Lambros that the federal law is supreme, and hence when there is a conflict over "new" and "old" time, the federal time must rule. Their arguments impressed the jury, and in each case a verdict of "not guilty" was returned. Lambros was on trial in the morning while Laskaris' case consumed the afternoon. Judge Huntington presided.

Lutheran Sunday School Picnic.

The Sunday school of the Lutheran church held its 15th annual picnic at Neahwa park yesterday afternoon and evening, commencing at 2 o'clock. Lunch was served at 5:30 to about 100 people. The time was pleasantly passed in the enjoyment of games and other social diversions and the occasion was thoroughly enjoyed by all present.

DEATHS.

Mrs. John W. Moak.

Anna Maria Veeder, wife of the late
John W. Moak, died at 4:15 o'clock
Wednesday afternoon, August 4, at her home, 21 Draper street. She had not been in the best of health for the past year, but of late had apparently been improving, until Monday night, when she suffered a sudden attack of neuralgia. From that time she had steadily failed, and her death followed as above stated. Her son, Herbert, has for some time been far from well,
and over exertion in caring for him, it is believed, may have been the cause of her last illness.

The funeral will be held at her late home at 3 p. m., city time, today.
(Friday). Her pastor, Rev. Dr. C. S.
Pendleton, will officiate, and interment will be beside her husband in the family plot in the Plains cemetery.

The deceased was a daughter of Myndert and Elizabeth Veeder, and was born Sept. 4, 1849, at Guilderland.
She was married Jan. 27, 1869, to John W. Moak and their home was later at Worcester and Maryland. About 20 years ago they moved to this city, where she had ever since resided. She was survived by one son, Herbert W.
Moak, who resided with her and for whom she has tenderly cared in her affliction; and one daughter, Mrs. Mina
L. M. Peck of Chicago, Ill., who a month ago came to visit her mother, and who was with her during her last illness. She also leaves four grandchildren, Frederick L. Peck of Jersey City, N. J., Milton and Elizabeth Peck of Chicago, and Mabel T. Moak, who since the death of her mother, Mrs.
Ida May Gifford, had resided with her grandmother; and two sisters, Mrs.
Ida Walling of Oneonta and Mrs.
Isaac Cross of Maryland.

Mrs. Moak was in early life a member of the Christian church, but after her removal to Oneonta united with the Main Street Baptist church, of which she was a regular attendant so long as health permitted. She was a devoted mother, a kind friend and neighbor and a true Christian, whose thoughts in her last moments were of God. In her loss the family is indeed in fullest sense bereaved.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to thank our kind neighbors and friends for the beautiful flowers sent to the funeral of our late husband and father and also for the many kindnesses shown us during his illness and death.

WORLD OWES IMMENSE SUM

These Pastors Look for More Women to Fill Vacant Pulpits

Left—Miss Ella J. Nash. Right—Miss Alice M. Whittier.

As a solution of the problem of the pastorless churches in the North Woods of Maine Baptists have ordained two women ministers, and they are now serving in the pulpits of the picturesque little church at Jay, Maine. While other women evangelists are "helping out" at churches where ministers with large families have not been able to meet the rising cost on an average salary of $1.87 a day, Miss Alice M. Whittier and Miss Ella J. Nash, so far as known, are the only Baptist female clergymen in the whole of New England.

They were ordained in 1917, when the war was making a heavy demand on the man power of Maine. Their first assignment was to the church at Jay, one of the oldest of the state, having a history that dates back 110 years, when the congregation met in a log house. As a rule Miss Whittier takes the morning service and Miss Nash has charge of the evening meeting.

Both were graduated from the Gordon Bible College in Boston, and both worked for a number of years afterward under the direction of the American Baptist Missionary Society. They have served the out of the way settlements in the far north Argoosook County and other sections of Maine, where the people depend on the colporteur for their gospel teaching. They have filled two pastorates of five years each, one at Owl's Head and the other at Jay, where they are at present stationed.

Will the woman pastor solve the problem of the shortage of ministers? Miss Whittier says she will. A woman gifted with the power of oratory, trained in a high class theological institution, and willing to make the combined sacrifices of not only a preacher's wife, but a preacher himself, should be allowed to fill a pulpit, she declares.

According to Miss Whittier, the woman preacher has come to stay. It is her opinion that very soon a large percentage of clergymen of all Protestant denominations will be women. The Baptists and the Congregationalists are among the first denominations to admit women to the ministry.

"Will women pastors be content to work on salaries that average less than $700 a year, as men preachers have been doing for years?" is another question Miss Whittier answered.

She said they decidedly would not.

"All over the country," she said, "people are realizing more and more the injustice that has been done to the minister. The time has come, I believe, when pastors are to receive their just due. The country pastor's salary should not merely be raised—it should be doubled. He receives less than an ordinary day laborer and depends to an humiliating extent upon the charity of his congregation. No woman who enters the ministry will not be so patient, I'm sure. Conditions in America today do not warrant the practice of such selfishness."

Miss Whittier is one of the leaders in Maine of the New World Movement of Northern Baptists. That state has been asked to raise a quota of $2,050,000. The amount didn't stagger the pastor of Jay.

"Will your congregation be able to come across with their apportionment?" she was asked.

"Certainly, there's no doubt about it," she said.

DEPEW MIXED IN HIS FACTS

Venerable New York Statesman a Little Ahead of Time in Use of Term "Highbrow."

Who were "the highbrows of forty years ago," of whom Chauncey M. Depew spoke in giving his recollections of Theodore Roosevelt at the Methodist preachers' conference?

The venerable ex-senator, relating the circumstances of Mr. Roosevelt's political debut in 1899, quoted "a Republican district leader" as suggesting to him the nomination of the young Harvard graduate for assemblyman to placate the element in his district "which the boys call 'high brow,' living along Fifth avenue."

Was there "any such animal" at that time? It was four years before the appearance of the mugwump, who, though a highbrow according to his lights, was not the slouchy article. His was not "a superior attitude toward the generality of mankind," but only toward certain political representatives of it. The real highbrow was yet to come.

Was Will Irwin his inventor? Excursions into the origins of words are always hazardous, even in the case of contemporary coinage, but it appears to be sufficiently well authenticated that highbrow is a more recent product than Mr. Depew would have us suppose.

Indeed, highbrow got into the dictionaries before low brow, which is not cited in the Century of 1911 or the Webster of 1910, though it appears in the New Standard of 1913.

An octogenarian memory, though it is a marvelous storehouse of events, may at times deceive its possessor. What the district leader probably said was "silk stockings."

Mr. Depew has apparently merely confused the period at which the growing inducement of the proletariat in silk stockings caused the term to be superseded by "highbrows"—New York World.

PROVING THAT "WOMAN PAYS"

Tragedy of War None the Less Pitiful Because Not Expressed in Blood and Fire.

Upstairs in the big hospital a young woman was greeting her soldier fiance back from Flanders, badly wounded. In the waiting room the Woman Who Saw tried to kill time by writing a letter.

Suddenly the page grew blurred, and the pen stopped. Willy-nilly, she was listening to one of war's tragedies, albeit this was not expressed in blood and fire. For the sergeant with the bandaged arm was telling the girl who sat beside him on the sofa that he no longer cared for her. Like the stroke of a bludgeon came his words, carrying clearly to the listener, who could not stop her ears.

"I'm sorry, but I care for her more, that's all. Perhaps if I'd never seen her we'd have got along all right. But I did, and as soon as I can send for her I'm going to marry her. I was billeted with her mother, and we got acquainted, and it just happened. Sorry, but it can't be helped. Her name's Marie," he concluded.

And then silence fell heavily. Not a word spoke the rather plain-looking girl beside him. Nor did she cry. After a little she took from her hand a ring, with such a tiny stone, and thrust it at him.

"Give it to her," she said. And without a backward glance she left the room.—London Mail.

Commercial Airlines.

The regular commercial air line has already come to stay. At present the longest passenger air service running, or rather flying, on regular air service is between London and Paris. The distance of 250 miles is flown in about three hours, often less. The fare is at the rate of a shilling a mile, or $67 for the trip. Even today these air passengers enjoy all the luxuries of modern travel. Nearly a score of passengers are carried in a comfortable cabin, seated in upholstered chairs. The cabin is lighted with electric candles and decorated with gilded mirrors. Several transatlantic air lines are planned. It is calculated that they can be run at a profit by charging $300 for an air passage.—Boys' Life.

KIEV EVACUATED WHILE BURNING

Americans with Polish Army Tell Thrilling Story of Flight From Bolsheviks.

MANY ATROCITIES BY REDS

Evacuation Is Weird and Picturesque Happening—Hacked and Mutilated Bodies of Polish Soldiers Attest Cruelty of Reds.

Washington.—A vivid description of the evacuation of Kiev by the Polish army was received in Washington, in the shape of 12 dispatches from Warsaw, the Polish capital. Colonel Gaskill, formerly of the American army, but now of the Polish railway mission, and Jay P. Moffat, secretary of the American Legation at Warsaw, furnished two of the clearest stories of the actual abandonment of the Ukrainian city.

The account, which, although not official, is regarded as reliable information, follows:

Picturesque and Thrilling Event.

"The evacuation of Kiev by the Polish army was a picturesque as well as a thrilling event. Credit for saving not only his men but also for the rescue of the immense swarm of refugees which accompanied the army must be given to General Rydz Smigley, the Polish commander of the Kiev occupation. Since the evacuation these refugees have been making their way into Warsaw clad in anything remotely resembling clothes and have been giving truthful but none the less extraordinary accounts of the experiences which they have undergone.

"Colonel Gaskill, who came out of Kiev with the Polish troops, was with the Polish staff there throughout the entire experience and witnessed the planning as well as the execution of the evacuation movement. Mr. Moffat took part in the evacuation of Jitomierz and experienced, after the Budenny red cavalry raid, a thrilling night ride through the forests of Kovel, while the peasants along the way were apparently taking pot shots at any soldiers they saw, with little regard to the color of their uniforms.

"The stories told by both Colonel Gaskill and Mr. Moffat confirm what has so often been said of the cruelties of the red troops. Colonel Gaskill told with considerable vividness of the descent of the reds upon the city even before the troops and refugees had gotten away, and of a night spent amid turbulence and constant indiscriminate firing by the reds on refugees and troop trains. Fortunately their aim for the most part was poor. Mr. Moffat in his region saw the hacked and mutilated bodies of Polish soldiers along the roadway at Jitomierz, and the bodies of four mutilated soldiers hanging in a freight car, their wounds attesting that their deaths had been made as horrible as humanly possible.

"The condition of the refugees was described by both men as pathetic, men, women and babies being huddled into box cars, and all arrayed in most extraordinary makeshift clothing. They had been summoned to flee the city with hardly more than an hour of warning and all had fled almost as they stood. They had abandoned their homes with no preparation. They had no food and no clothing other than what they wore. Even more terrible than the refugees, however, was the condition of the people whom the Poles were obliged to leave behind since the trains could not accommodate them. There were incidents in which fathers and mothers gave up their places in order that their children, particularly their daughters, might escape from the doomed region.

Ordered to Leave City.

Up to the last, according to Colonel Gaskill's account, the Poles were determined to hold the city. The staff had not only planned but had put into operation a scheme for defense, and General Rydz Smigley was satisfied that while the cost might be heavy, they could hold their ground. All the time that the decision was being made, Colonel Gaskill stated, the staff headquarters was fairly besieged by Russians and Poles begging the general not to abandon them and predicting their fate with the return of the reds.

The knowledge that the reds had crossed the river and were advancing from the north was confirmed by the appearance of red airplanes which began dropping incendiary bombs on the city so that in a relatively short time half a dozen fires were burning.

"While the Polish staff was endeavoring to reach a decision the positive order came from the chief of staff, Landski, to abandon the place, and a wild rush of preparation began. A Polish Red Cross and other agencies began to gather together the refugees and the army officials to marshal their men. These preparations were, of course, foiled by the enemy, and the number of red planes increased. By the time the movement was actually under way the centers were suffering from gunfire as well as from the bombs of the aviators and in the city which they had left behind the fleeing troops and refugees could see the flames mounting steadily from burning buildings. The ride out was an exciting one. The trains could only be moved at a slow speed, and Polish soldiers were required on the footboards of all the coaches to maintain order and prevent panic."

China's Potential Armies.

If, in a war, an enemy started killing Chinese soldiers at a million a year, and if China were using 10 per cent of her population in that war, it would take fifty years to destroy her first armies, and in that period two further Chinese forces of fifty million would grow up to confront their enemy.—Basil Mathews in the British Review of Reviews.

ANTONIO MORENO

Antonio Moreno was a small boy when his father died. Eager to assist his mother by sharing part of the family burden he obtained a position as baker's clerk. For this service he received the princely sum of two dollars a week. Although he liked his position, this Spanish lad had dreams of making a fortune. He had seen wealthy American tourists in his native town and they awakened ambition in his breast. He resolved to save his money and go to the land of promise.

The Americans who visited Campamento were all supposed to be millionaires. Into the mind of Antonio Moreno came dreams, dreams of wealth that lay across the great ocean. He became determined to go to the United States and make a fortune.

When Antonio Moreno, at the age of fifteen, walked up the gangplank from the Gibraltar docks to an American steamship, he was in reality crossing the bridge from nonentity to fame. Aboard the boat was one of America's most distinguished actresses, Miss Helen Ware. Her attention was attracted to the handsome lad with the fiery eyes, and she became interested in him.

"What do you intend to do when you reach America?" inquired Miss Ware.

"Make a fortune," promptly replied young Antonio.

Miss Ware smiled at his confidence and replied, "I think you will find both fame and fortune in the theater if you choose to become an actor."

The prophecy is now being realized. Antonio Moreno as the star of such Vitaphone serials as "The Iron Test" and "Perils of Thunder Mountain," is earning international fame and a considerable fortune. While in New York recently he signed a two year contract with the Vitaphone Company and recently finished a serial production dealing with secret service, entitled "The Invisible Hand."

HEART OF PARIS MAY YIELD UP BURIED RICHES

Famous Treasure of Narbonne Believed to Be Located.

INCLUDES EMERALD TABLE

For 1,200 Years Parisians Have Been Pointing to a Certain Plot of Ground With Mysterious Nods—The Lost Treasures Are Historical—They Were Buried Ages Ago by a Few and Their Knowledge Perished With Them.

The surface ground of the "mystery" has been cleared, at last, in mid-Paris. For 1,200 years Parisians have been pointing to this plot of ground with wise nods. But for the war, its story would have run through the world already. Doubtless, time is ripening for Isaac's long-held "reminder" to be released. Why, the proletariat around Notre Dame are talking about "it" more than any!

I asked a butcher, in the Paris, says Sterling Hellig in the Springfield Republican. "It is subterranean," he said. "In the revolution, my grandfather helped to seek it; but it was too well hid (waving his hand across the split of the river). Now the ground is clear."

"It is rooms filled with the jewels of kings!" said an old dame selling oranges. "Once there was a crowd on Notre Dame that looked toward it." Victor Hugo knew all about the crowd. His "Claude Prolo" spent hours, "calculating the angle at which the raven looked from the west porch" of the cathedral. There is a sad bird still, high up there among the gargoyles, vast and sinister, draped in bat-like wings as in a mourning veil.

Most Mysterious Objects of Paris. They are the chimeras of Notre Dame, regularly misnamed the gargoyles—the most mysterious objects of Paris. Climb the towers of the cathedral. High up, you come to this gallery of the roofs, whence, amid a population of gigantic stone creatures, you have Victor Hugo's bird's-eye view of Paris. Tourists are more struck by the strange population of carved monsters than by the shining city.

There are gigantic bulls and bears, a contemplative elephant on his hind legs, a two-headed panther, owls and vultures of the pit. In vain, for centuries, have visitors inquired the meaning of the collection. In particular, the human-like figures arouse wonder—genii, titans, demons, of stern thought, evil dignity and bad, unyielding purpose; meditating, staring into the far distance or peering down, right close beside them, into the city.

There is but one single figure of a real man. He is Isaac (all Parisians know him), a preternaturally young-looking old man with a venerable beard. We shall meet him again. He peers down, more anxious than any, but benevolent and kindly, as if checking off those demons.

Calling them gargoyles explained nothing. Every gothic cathedral has its grotesque stone roof-spouts, to spout off the rain water; and Notre Dame has 100 real ones which pass unnoticed beside these vast upright features. With their purpose unknown, their common attitude had led folks, in all countries, to ask finally: "What are they looking at?" And the Paris populace answers, as it answered always: "They are looking at the mystery."

Men have carried a theodolite up there, to measure exactly, if possible, "what they are looking at." Naturally, the first thought is a treasure. But the crowd of Paris, all around here, has been dug up and rebuilt a dozen times. All but one area. It is the very area they seem to watch.

Hotel Dieu Torn Down. The old buildings of the Hotel Dieu covered the watched area. Now, at last, they are to be down. It is a queer event. The unique hospital of Paris was founded by St. Landry, bishop under Clovis II., about A. D. 686, for the poor of the cathedral chapter.

The old buildings just demolished (patched, decayed, remodeled, but always covering the surface ground heretofore) rose up in what remained (when they were begun) of the still more antique gardens of the palace of the city, extending to the Roman citadel or palace of the baths. As late as the year 1100 it was still known as the semi-royal territory of Laas, always enclosed and protected, being just outside the island. And when Philip Augustus, about 1190, built the new wall of Paris, he took in just this strip of the old garden's surface, leaving outside, just beyond them, the now most ancient little old church of Paris—that of St. Julian-the-Poor.

From the foundation in the gardens, the old Hotel Dieu buildings, their courtyards and dependencies, were always on this spot—till yesterday. They were enlarged, fell into decay, and were restored; old wings fell in, and new additions rose; but the area, which is now to be a public square, was never parceled into private property—the crown, by unwarmed traditional policy, kept private owners at a distance from this strip of the antique gardens by the river. They were camouflaged by a charity.

Time passed. Nicolas Flamet outlived his students and his taste for gorgeous gaiety. In his old age he made the extravagant liberality to Paris churches, and particularly to the cathedral, which connect his name with the "mystery" and confirmed his reputation as a transmitter of metals and a "jewel molder." Did he do it? Victor Hugo tells how half the alchemists of Europe dug vainly in Nicolas Flamet's cellar up to 50 years after his death!

These lost treasures are historical. There is no cause to scoff. They existed. They were acquired by one or a few. They were hidden by prudence, for the nine days' wonder to blow over, or not to divide up, and those who helped to do the deep, ingenious hiding were regularly strangled, that their knowledge perish with them.

This particular lost treasure, reposing always, by tradition, in Paris, is the treasure of Narbonne. It is plain history. You will find it in Gibbon. Adolphus, Gothic chieftain, having forcibly married Placidia, daughter of the Emperor Theodosius, in the house of Ingenius, most illustrious citizen of Narbonne, in Gaul, on the Mediterranean seacoast, where she and hers sought refuge, took with her as her dowry what became known as the Gothic treasure—fabulous salvage from her ravaged land.

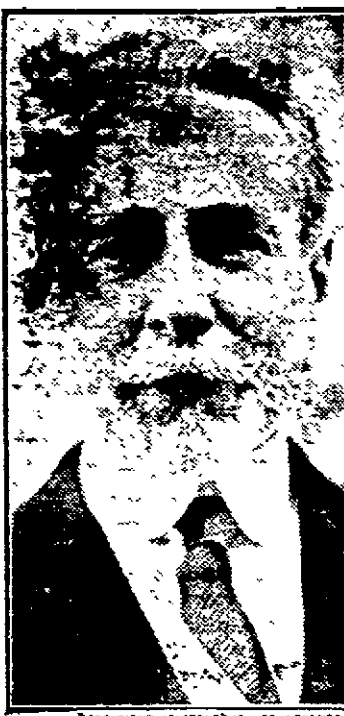

Time embroiders old traditions, but there is always something in them. Who knows from what elements of a persecuted, grateful and prophetic race (what banker-seers, merchant-poets, doctor-searchers) originated the popular figure of the Wandering Jew as benefactor of the chapter of Notre Dame and watcher, neutralizer of the demon, final pointer and last memorizer, for these last days, of what revelation of antique culture, riches, splendor! It is a good day for a memorizer. Once again the cupid of masses has found its gospel—"take it!"

Little Girl Lost Life to Save Brother. Although she saved her little brother from being run down by a Reading railway train at Cumberland, Pa., May Eckman, eleven years old, lost her life. She died 24 hours after, both legs having been amputated.

"All right, Bill—
You can stop reading 'em"

BILL TOLD ME HE HAD A good joke ON THE maker OF A well-known brand OF CIGARETTES. LAST NIGHT, BILL SAID HE READ AN ad. OF THIS cigarette IN A magazine. IT SAID "They Satisfy." AND THIS morning, IN HIS newspaper, HE READ "They Satisfy." AND ON A billboard, AND ON A card, IN THE street-car, AND IN the dealer's window, AND ON the counter, HE READ "They Satisfy." AND HE bought a pack OF THESE cigarettes, AND I asked him, "WHERE'S the joke, BILL?" AND he said, "WHY THE darn fools SPEND their money, PICKING ON me." SO I said, "You bought 'em. DIDN'T THEY satisfy?" AND BILL said "Sure, BUT HERE'S the joke. FOR OVER a year, I'D ALREADY been smoking THAT BRAND."

WE admit it, the joke's on us. And over three million other smokers are "in on it" with Bill. But the real joke is on anybody who looks for "Satisfy" anywhere but in Chesterfield—for the Chesterfield blend can't be copied!

ANTI-STEALING DEVICE FOR MOTOR CAR

The photo shows Third Deputy Police Commissioner Joseph A. Faurot of New York, famous fingerprint expert, and Lieut. James J. Skehan, instructor of the New York police training school, standing beside a car protected with their Faurot-Skehan safety-scope. With a diamond at the top of the device, the ignition of the car is cut off and the diamond is a signal to everybody that if the car is being operated, the machine is being stolen. Commissioner Faurot holds in his hand the disk which is locked into the device when the rightful owner or driver is operating the car. This disk connects the ignition.

DRAPED WEDDING RING

Wound in Black and Red to Signify Divorce and Joy it Brought.

Wearing a wedding ring draped with black and red ribbons, Mrs. Florida Rogovoy, of New York, says that the black signifies the divorce which was recently granted her in Seattle, Wash., and the red, the joy the divorce has brought her.

The Rogovoy was married in 1911 after an introduction by Oscar Hammerstein. She was Florida L. Walden, of Philadelphia. She asserted that less than half an hour after she received her decree, her former husband proposed to her again.

DROPPED 19,800 FEET WITH TWO PARACHUTES

Lieut. John H. Wilson—"Dynamite" as his friends call him at Kelly Field, San Antonio, Tex.—a few moments before he "took off" on the flight which ended with his world-record-shattering parachute drop. He leaped backward from the plane when 19,800 in the air with a parachute in each hand. The descent occupied 17 minutes and he drifted about 10 miles, narrowly missing a church steeple at the end. The former American record was 8,000 feet and the world's record, made by a Frenchman, 14,000 feet. Lieut. Dunton, who piloted the plane, followed Wilson in his erratic flight.

BUBONIC PLAGUE IN U. S.?

Death From Dreaded Disease Reported From Pensacola, Fla.

After the announcement by state analysts that the death of George Gardina at Pensacola, Fla., was due to bubonic plague, city and state authorities immediately launched a clean-up campaign to prevent the spread of the disease.

Though Gardina's was the only case reported, public officials have begun a survey of the city to localize dangerous areas. They will conduct a rat extermination campaign, and make sure that no rats reach shore from incoming vessels.
